About our partner in Ireland

The Irish national focal point is located in the Health Research Board (HRB). The HRB is a statutory body with a mission to improve health through research and information. The HRB is responsible for promoting, commissioning and conducting medical, epidemiological and health services research in Ireland. Within the HRB, a multidisciplinary team of researchers and information specialists work to provide objective, reliable and comparable information on the drug situation and its consequences and responses in Ireland. The HRB disseminates research findings, information and news in the drugs area through its Trends series, through the HRB National Drugs Library and through a quarterly research and policy bulletin, Drugnet Ireland. Through its research and dissemination activities, the HRB aims to inform policy and practice in relation to drug misuse.

The drugs situation in Ireland: an overview of trends from 2005 to 2015.

The review analysed 10 years of data up to the most recent data available, with respect to prevalence of drug use, high risk drug use, treatment demand, drug-related deaths, and mortality and drug-related infectious diseases, as well as drug-related crime and supply. In addition to presentation of national trends, this report includes additional evidence looking at trends in data relating to specific subpopulations, including people who inject drugs, prisoners, homeless individuals, sex workers and the Traveller community.

The effectiveness of interventions related to the use of illicit drugs: prevention, harm reduction, treatment and recovery. A review of reviews.

The Irish National Focal Point commissioned the Public Health Institute at Liverpool John Moores University to prepare a report on the most recent international evidence on responses to problem drug use and a trends analysis on the drugs situation in Ireland between 2005 and 2015. The review of reviews approach provides an overview of the most recent high-quality evidence on prevention, treatment, harm reduction and recovery.
